

NWT ARTS STRATEGY PROGRESS REPORT

As of March 31, 2013

MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTERS

Hon. Jackson Lafferty
Minister of Education,
Culture and Employment

Arts in the Northwest Territories (NWT) play a key role in preserving culture and language, diversifying the economy, and raising the profile of the territory. Our vast land provides artists practicing in all disciplines with a unique backdrop in which to create their works, and today's arts sector is as diverse as the land itself. One-of-a-kind art and fine crafts, including carvings, beaded garments, home-tanned hides, paintings and jewellery are available in just about every community and are in high demand throughout the year.

Economic and cultural benefits weave together in our arts industry and the rewards are felt across the territory. As more people look North with curiosity, northern artists have an ideal opportunity to showcase their creative talents to the world through books, film, performances, traditional crafts, paintings and sculpture, and more. Cultural pride is also strengthened by elders who pass down their traditional skills and knowledge to the younger generations, who not only preserve these practices, but also infuse modern technology with traditional methods to celebrate their heritage and provide riveting profiles of the North.

Investing in the arts and cultural industries makes good economic sense as well; in 2011, arts and culture contributed 22.3 million dollars to the gross domestic product of the Northwest Territories.

The Departments of Education, Culture and Employment (ECE) and Industry, Tourism and Investment (ITI) have been working closely with members of the arts community to raise the profile of NWT Arts. We are committed to continuing to invest in arts programming and support services to meet the needs of the industry; providing opportunities for artistic and industry growth, encouraging participation in a diversified economy, and for sustaining artists' connection to the land and their culture through their art.

Hon. Dave Ramsay
Minister of Industry,
Tourism and Investment

NWT Arts Program

A Commitment to the Arts

The goals, objectives and action items identified in the NWT Arts Strategy were based upon formal recommendations by an Arts Strategy Advisory Panel (ASAP) and extensive consultations in the regions.

The NWT Arts Strategy represents the Government of the Northwest Territories' (GNWT) recognition of the many benefits that the arts provide to individuals and communities in the Northwest Territories (NWT). It is a commitment to take action to address identified issues and opportunities in the arts sector. This is the second annual report on progress made toward achieving the goals of the NWT Arts Strategy.

ECE and ITI have a shared interest in supporting the arts. Although their activities overlap at times, the two departments are mandated with distinct roles that result in different programs and services.

The goals are:

Goal 1: People in the NWT, from an early age, are taught about the arts and develop an appreciation of art in its various forms.

Goal 2: Established and emerging artists in the NWT have access to programs and funding that support the development of their skills and the production and sales of their work.

Goal 3: There is global awareness of NWT arts and recognition of the importance and value of the work of NWT artists, which enables them to earn a living through production and sales of their work, without compromising the cultural integrity of the arts community.

Education, Culture and Employment's Role

ECE supports the arts through various programs and services that are intended to foster life-long learning, appreciation of, and participation in the arts.

Early Childhood and School Services provides opportunities to learn about and through the arts from kindergarten to grade 12 by developing curricula, resources, artists-in-schools programs, youth mentorships and professional development for teachers in the arts.

Aurora College provides courses in arts instruction as part of the Teacher Education Program and the Aboriginal Language and Culture Instructor Program. Aurora College offers continuing education courses in the arts.

The Student Financial Assistance Program provides financial support for NWT residents to pursue postsecondary studies in a number of areas, including the arts. ECE Service Centres provide information about postsecondary arts programs and scholarships across Canada.

The Culture and Heritage Division coordinates a full range of professional services for individuals and organizations actively involved in arts, culture and heritage activities. It provides opportunities for public awareness and appreciation of the arts through financial awards to artists and arts organizations in the visual, literary, media and performing arts.

These funding programs support established and emerging artists in developing their skills and producing work. The NWT Arts Council, in addition to reviewing and recommending funding proposals for creative artistic projects, provides advice to the Minister on issues and policies associated with artists and the arts. The Council's mandate is to promote the arts in the NWT.

The Prince of Wales Northern Heritage Centre provides a venue for showcasing art and public events. Travelling exhibits are circulated to northern communities on an annual basis.

Industry, Tourism and Investment's Role

In supporting the arts, ITI recognizes the importance of tradition and the economic potential of the NWT arts and fine crafts industry. Funding support is provided under the Support for Entrepreneurs and Economic Development (SEED) Policy.

ITI also supports marketing and promotional efforts, nationally and internationally, by raising awareness of the importance and value of traditional and fine arts and crafts in the NWT.

Benefits of the Arts

The GNWT recognizes that the arts, if supported, can provide many benefits. Research has demonstrated a correlation between the arts and the following benefits:

Economic Benefits

- Direct economic benefits include employment, local spending, and multiplier effects.
- Indirect economic benefits in the form of improved quality of life serves to attract people and businesses to a community and to reduce out-migration.
- Physical assets created through the arts exist for present enjoyment and represent an investment for future generations.

Cultural Benefits

- Preservation and reinforcement of community, regional and national cultural identity.
- Strengthened sense of cultural pride for northern residents.
- Transmission of cultural heritage from one generation to the next.

Health Benefits

- Improved quality of life, especially for seniors and persons with dementia.
- Reduced stress.
- Discovering strength, skills and opportunities for self-development.
- Workplace performance.

Cognitive Benefits

- Academic and workplace performance.
- Creative and critical thinking.
- Skills development.

Attitudinal and Behavioural Benefits

- Building self-esteem.
- Tolerance for others and positive association of one's own culture.
- Teamwork.
- Mentoring and social bonding, especially for at-risk youth.

Community Benefits:

- Social interaction and social cohesion within and between cultures.
- Building social capital.
- Community empowerment.

These benefits accrue to both individuals and communities in the NWT, and beyond. However, for this to happen, support must be provided on two fronts: the creation of art and participation in arts activities.

A Collaborative, Holistic Approach

The GNWT believes that a collaborative, holistic approach is needed to support and develop a vibrant arts sector. This approach recognizes the valuable contributions of many partners working together.

Artists

- Provide creative energy to produce objects and experiences for public appreciation and/or consumption.
- Share knowledge, skill and experience with students and the public to help them discover and develop their own artistic strengths.

Volunteers, Donors, Corporate Sponsors, Consumers and Participants

- Provide financial and in-kind support.
- Provide time, expertise and hands-on support to organizations.
- Provide feedback and encouragement to artists.

Arts Organizations

- Provide organizational support, professional development and other services to artists.
- Provide opportunities for the public to participate in arts activities.
- Provide venues for artists and the public to connect.

Cultural Industries

- Publishers, recording studios, film companies, commercial galleries and online enterprises assist artists with production and marketing.
- Bookstores, music stores and commercial galleries provide venues for artists to sell their work.

All Levels of Government

- Provide grants and contributions, in-kind support, and policy support.
- Public art galleries, museums, cultural centres, visitor centres and libraries provide venues for artists and community engagement.
- Schools provide formal and informal opportunities for students to learn about arts disciplines; to learn other subjects through the arts and to develop positive attitudes and behaviours through participation in arts activities.
- Colleges provide education and training opportunities for artists; they also provide informal arts learning for the general public.

Since the NWT Arts Strategy was released in 2004, the GNWT has worked with various partners to complete a number of action items toward the continuous development of a strong and vibrant arts sector. These achievements are described in the subsequent sections of this report.

Next Steps - Planning for Future Actions

Many of the action items that were completed in the short-term represent initiatives that will continue to support the arts in the future. Regarding intermediate and long-term actions, the GNWT will continue to work toward their completion. Given the evolving environment and changing circumstance in the NWT arts sector, new or revised action items may be required. The GNWT will continue to consult with the arts community to recommend future actions in support of the arts. This helps to ensure that current needs of the arts sector are known and addressed appropriately within available resources.

SECTION 2: EDUCATION, CULTURE AND EMPLOYMENT

Introduction

The Department of Education, Culture and Employment (ECE) recognizes the importance of the arts in providing opportunities for personal growth and for building social capital in communities across the NWT. Since the NWT Arts Strategy Action Plan: 2 was released in 2007, the Department has made significant increases in contributions to the Arts. The following sections highlight ECE's programs, services and initiatives in support of the arts:

- School Programs
- Postsecondary School Programs
- Career Services and Student Support
- Public Programs
- Support for Artists and Art Organizations

These sections incorporate specific items in the Arts Strategy Action Plan: 2.

A summary of progress on the Action Plan is provided in Section 5 of this document.

The cultural sector of the NWT, including artists consists of 750 workers, almost 3% of the territorial workforce.

- Canada Council for the Arts: Funding to artists and arts organizations in the NWT, 2011-2012

School Programs

ECE supports arts education in the schools through curriculum development and teacher support including training and resources. School authorities provide opportunities for the arts community to be involved in school arts activities.

ECE encourages teaching arts from a culture-based perspective.

Curriculum Development

ECE supports the arts through the development or acquisition, implementation and support of curriculum in Arts Education. The NWT supports the exposure of students to all of the Fine Arts (drama, dance, music and visual art) within the context of common global Arts Education objectives.

From grades 1-9, NWT schools devote a recommended 9% of instructional time (about 90 hours per year) to the arts. In addition, three credits in the area of Fine Arts are required during grades 10-12 for high school graduation. The current curriculum used in grades 1-9 is based upon the Saskatchewan Arts Education Curriculum. In senior secondary, the Fine Arts courses are based on the Alberta Curriculum.

In all cases, ECE encourages the teaching of the Arts from a culture-based perspective that is integrated as much as possible with the outcomes of the cultural, foundational curricula, Dene Kede and Inuuqatigiit. Arts Education is also directly linked with outcomes in the NWT English Language Arts curriculum.

From grades 1-9, students are taught a variety of fine arts including drama, dance, music and visual art for a recommended 90 hours per year.

Arts Education Programming

Teacher Support

In-service support to teachers on the Saskatchewan Arts Education Curriculum has been initiated in NWT school boards. Additionally, individual schools and boards continue to arrange professional development activities when needed or requested.

Principals and school jurisdictions can arrange for a professional artist to teach in their schools through an ad-hoc Artists-in-Schools program.

Community Involvement

Each school jurisdiction in the NWT provides opportunities to learn in, through and about the arts from kindergarten to grade 12 to meet the needs of the students they serve. Individual schools and boards work with community groups to develop innovative programming to serve their students. Mentoring programs and Artists-in-Schools programs are currently arranged at the discretion of individual schools or school jurisdictions.

Postsecondary School Programs

Aurora College provides arts education through various programs. Aurora College delivers Traditional Arts Programming through its Continuing Education section. Aurora College also delivers programming through the Bachelor of Education Program and the Aboriginal Language and Cultural Instructor Program (ALCIP).

Aurora College

While Aurora College does not currently deliver a full-time arts program due to funding constraints, it does provide arts programming through other areas. Aurora College undertakes an annual review of programs and of the labour market to determine the most effective ways to deliver programming to the residents of the NWT.

Aurora College offers fine arts and cultural programming on a continuing basis.

Margaret Nazon provides beading instruction

Aboriginal Language and Culture Instructor Program

ALCIP includes courses such as Teaching Aboriginal Languages through the Arts and Literacy as well as Drama in Aboriginal Language Education and numerous other courses in literacy. These courses highlight the connection this program has to the arts and the focus on visual demonstration of culture through the arts, particularly Aboriginal arts and crafts.

Bachelor of Education Program

Aurora College currently delivers the Arts Education methodology course as well as a Fine Arts Elective course in music as part of the Bachelor of Education Program.

Continuing Education

Aurora College provides part time non-credit courses through Continuing Education throughout the NWT. These courses include Basic Sewing, Drawing and Painting, as well as courses that were previously included in the Traditional Arts Program.

Career Services and Student Support

ECE supports NWT residents to pursue careers in the arts through career counseling services at ECE Service Centres and through grants and loans from the Student Financial Assistance (SFA) Program.

Supporting Post Secondary Fine Arts Students

The Department provides grant and loan assistance to NWT residents who are studying full time at the postsecondary level through the SFA Program.

The Program:

- Provides assistance to supplement the cost of obtaining a postsecondary education.
- Provides assistance through a combination of grants and loans.

- Encourages students to return to the north after school completion through remission and repayment programs. The SFA website has links to scholarships and bursaries at www.nwtsfa.gov.nt.ca.

Information on postsecondary arts programs and scholarships in other parts of Canada are provided through ECE Service Centres. These centres have computers with Internet access that the public can use to research arts programs and scholarships. Arts programs information continues to be a part of high school Career Focusing Programs.

ECE has published a booklet, Jobs in Arts, Culture and Heritage, that promotes work and training opportunities in this employment sector. The booklet is part of a series profiling the various sectors in the NWT. They are distributed to schools, Aurora College and the public. They are also available on the ECE website.

Public Programs

Programs to encourage public participation in the arts and to expand public access to the arts are supported by the Culture and Heritage Division and the NWT Public Library Services.

Visual and Performing Arts

The Culture and Heritage Division encourages and supports individuals and organizations to produce, exhibit, perform and disseminate art to the public by:

- Making, as a condition of NWT Arts Council funding, the requirement that recipients give a public performance or exhibition of their completed projects.
- Supporting organizations that serve as venues for the arts. These include:
 - Northern Arts and Cultural Centre, Yellowknife.
 - Prince of Wales Northern Heritage Centre, Yellowknife.
 - Norman Wells Historical Centre, Norman Wells.
 - Northern Life Museum and Cultural Centre, Fort Smith.
 - Western Arctic Motion Pictures, Yellowknife.
 - Open Sky Gallery, Fort Simpson.
 - Festivals in all regions of the NWT.

The PWNHC provides exhibit spaces for people and community organizations from across the territory. Since 2007, the Heritage Centre has displayed 20 art exhibits from Yellowknife, nine from elsewhere in the territory and 10 from outside the NWT. Many of these exhibits contain online components so that they are accessible to people across the NWT at www.pwnhc.ca.

In addition to providing exhibit space, the PWNHC also provides education programming to students from across the territory. The Heritage Centre provides Amazing Family Sundays programs each year, which include a basis in art.

The PWNHC also provides a venue for artists to give public presentations. The Heritage Centre provides educational programming in English and French to an average of 2,400 students across the territory annually.

2012 Minister's Culture and Heritage Circle

Minister's Culture and Heritage Circle

The Minister's Cultural Circle was established in 2011, to recognize and to celebrate northerners who have contributed to preserving and promoting the arts, cultures and heritage in the NWT. The award was renamed the Minister's Culture and Heritage Circle in 2013.

The Culture and Heritage Circle affirms the importance of our diverse northern cultures, and encourages pride in culture through creating public awareness and appreciation of the arts, culture and heritage.

The Awards are based on four categories:

- Youth Category.
- Elder Category.
- Individual Category.
- Group or Organization Category.

A Minister's Choice Award is also given to a person or group at the Minister of ECE's discretion.

Literary Arts

The Department's Strategic Plan recognizes that libraries are essential to the development of literacy at a young age and support literacy through the adult years. Libraries are also important venues for providing public access to the literary arts through book lending, author events and special community programs.

The NWT Public Library Services maintains a territory-wide information system through libraries. Since 2006, five more communities received libraries, bringing the total number of communities with libraries to 20. There is also a plan to expand into two more communities when funding becomes available. The NWT Public Library Services maintains copies of books and films made by northerners. It also collects art instructional materials that are made available to NWT residents upon request.

Number of communities with libraries

Since 2006, the number of communities with public libraries has increased from 15 to 20.

Support for Artists and Arts Organizations

Community Programs Office

The Culture and Heritage Division provides financial and technical support to artists and arts organizations through various programs administered through the Community Programs office at the PWNHC.

The Community Programs office coordinates a full range of professional services for individuals and organizations actively involved in arts, cultural and heritage activities. Planning assistance is provided to community museums, arts and cultural groups. Advice, orientations, workshops and individual training opportunities in the arts are also provided.

The Community Programs office assists NWT artists and arts groups who seek funding by disseminating information on GNWT and other arts funding programs.

In 2012, a brochure entitled A Guide to Arts Funding was developed through collaboration between ECE and ITI in order to provide artists and arts organizations with information on the various funding programs available from the GNWT.

Tools to assist artists and arts organizations with funding proposals are available online at the NWT Arts Council website: www.nwtarts council.ca.

The Department administers funding for 11 arts, culture and heritage programs including the NWT Arts Council and Support for Northern Performers programs.

This includes coordinating the functions of the NWT Arts Council review meeting. In 2011/12, ECE directly assisted 276 applicants by phone, email or in-person with their project proposals by discussing project outlines, budgets and alternate sources for support. This led to 156 applications and 93 contributions.

Since 2007, the total budget for these programs has increased from $932,000 to $2,202,000.

NWT Arts Council

The NWT Arts Council was established in August 1985, as an advisory board to the GNWT. The mandate of the NWT Arts Council is to promote the arts in the NWT.

The NWT Arts Council provides recommendations to the Minister of ECE on financial awards for creative artistic projects in the visual, literary, media and performing arts, and on issues and policies associated with the arts and artists.

Six members are appointed to the NWT Arts Council by the Executive Council of the GNWT for terms of two years. Members are selected for their expertise and abilities in the arts from six regions of the NWT: South Slave, Beaufort Delta, Dehcho, Sahtu, Tłı̨chǫ and North Slave.

NWT Arts Council Funding Contributions

NWT Arts Council Contributions support and encourage the continued development of creative artistic projects in the visual, literary, media and performing arts in the NWT. The NWT Arts Council recommends project-based funding for training and professional development, creation of artistic works and public presentation.

Eligible applicants must be residents of the NWT for at least two years prior to the annual deadline or be registered NWT organizations with mandates to enhance or promote the arts.

The NWT Arts Council website www.nwtarts council.ca provides all forms and relevant information for applicants.

“It is because of funding agencies like the NWT Arts Council that I have this opportunity not only to grow and develop as an artist but share my knowledge and experiences”

– Leanne Goose

Since 2007, the total amount of money requested from the NWT Arts Council has averaged just over $1,000,000 per year and the Arts Council now awards $500,000 in project contributions. The NWT Arts Council has received an average of 105 applications per year since 2007 and has been able to fund an average of 75 per year, or just over 70% of funding requests. The Council serves nine arts categories. There is no set allocation of funds per category.

SECTION 3: DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRY, TOURISM AND INVESTMENT

Introduction

The Department of Industry, Tourism and Investment (ITI) supports the business, marketing and promotional side of the arts including the film industry and producers of art and fine crafts.

Since the NWT Arts Strategy Action Plan: 2 was released in 2007, ITI has made significant progress toward its support of the business and development of the NWT arts and fine crafts industry.

The following sections highlight ITI's programs, services and initiatives in support of the arts:

- Marketing Strategy: The NWT Arts Program
- NWT Arts Promotional Initiatives
- Program Support and Services
- The NWT Film Commission
- Financial Assistance

These sections incorporate specific items in the Arts Strategy Action Plan: 2.

A summary of progress on the Action Plan is provided in Section 5 of this document.

Marketing Strategy: The NWT Arts Program

The NWT Arts Program promotes arts and fine crafts to local, national and international markets. Program registration is free to all NWT artists including those in traditional and contemporary visual arts and fine crafts, performing arts, literary arts and film/new media art.

Objectives of the NWT Arts Program include:

- Increased awareness and sales of authentic NWT Arts.
- A recognizable and trusted logo for use in local, national and international markets.
- Increased demand for products in the marketplace, with value and price point to match sought-after items.
- Promotion and celebration of NWT artists and their stories about NWT Arts.
- Support for the NWT's rich artistic tradition to preserve and strengthen cultural heritage and identity.
- Distinguish and promote NWT art and fine crafts in the marketplace.

Visual Identity Guidelines

Visual Identity Guidelines (VIG) have been developed to support and enforce the NWT Arts brand and to ensure a clear and consistent visual presentation of NWT arts and fine crafts in marketing campaigns.

Visual Identity Guidelines for NWT Arts

Content Collection Project

The Content Collection Project is an ongoing initiative that gathers content (images, video and interviews) from registered artists in the NWT Arts Program. This content is then given to artists for their own marketing purposes and with permission from the artist, may be used by NWT Arts in its general arts marketing campaigns.

To date, content has been collected from Yellowknife, Inuvik, Tuktoyaktuk, Ulukhaktok, Aklavik, Tsuigehtchic and Fort McPherson, and over 100 registered artists from these communities have had the opportunity share and document the story of their art. Representatives from the NWT Arts Program are working to ensure all registered artists in the NWT have the opportunity to share and document the story of their art and benefit from this project.

ITI has purchased digital cameras for regional Economic Development Officers to help artists take high-resolution photos of their artwork.

Online Initiatives

Online promotion is a key element in marketing. The NWT Arts Program includes the following components as a part of its marketing and promotion services:

1. NWT Arts Archive

The NWT Arts Archive is a database of all NWT Arts content including products, programming and promotional initiatives. Personal content (contact information, images, videos, etc) chosen by an artist as 'public' can then be viewed on the public website. The archive also serves as an inventory of art that has been purchased by the GNWT.

2. NWT Arts Marketing Assets Inventory

This is an up-to-date inventory of marketing assets that are available for artists, organizations and partners to use in arts promotion. This includes (but is not limited to) artist's profiles and art images, banners, posters, brochures, videos, etc.

3. NWT Arts Website (nwtarts.com)

The website serves as a one-stop information source about NWT artists and their work. Visitors can read stories about registered artists, see images of their work and find registered organizations that sell NWT art. The website also contains information about NWT art and culture, the NWT Arts Program, and more.

4. NWT Arts Login Areas

In this members-only section of the website, registered artists and organizations can update their public profile, participate in internal forums, buy/sell raw materials from other registered artists and organizations, post events and more.

Point-of-Sale Materials

Point-of-Sale (POS) materials are available to aid in educating prospective customers about the value of NWT arts, and assist in brand recognition of authentic products.

YOUR ART HAS A STORY TO SHARE. NWT ARTS IS THE STORYTELLER.

Administered by Industry, Tourism and Investment (ITI), the NWT Arts Program is a comprehensive program designed to support the development of the NWT arts community and international market. The Program is available to all NWT artists who create all forms of art, such as traditional and contemporary visual arts, crafts, music, dance, theatre, film, literature, and new media art.

There are many benefits to NWT artists and anyone in the Province, such as being a part of the NWT Arts website. Redesigned in fall 2013, the website educates customers about the different types of art in the NWT and provides a platform for artists to connect with artists. Registered artists can login with their username and password to the website's personal profile page with news information, message, add comments, message, upload artwork, receive information about funding, workshops and other opportunities, and much more.

THE NWT ARTS PROGRAM CONTENT COLLECTION PROJECT | Inuvik Region, July 2012

In July 2012 representatives from the Department of Industry, Tourism and Investment (ITI) and the NWT Arts Program travelled to the Inuvik Region and attended the 26th annual Great Northern Arts Festival. From the festival, the NWT Arts Program staff and partners were invited to observe and document the story of their art.

These photographs and stories will be given for free to artists for their own use. They will also be used to create a marketing campaign to the local, national and international markets. Campaigns will use artist names and images to showcase the quality and authenticity of art and the beauty and uniqueness of the land and the artwork created by artists who live here.

It is the NWT Arts Program's goal to have as many artists as possible participate in this project, and if these 26 were not in the NWT Arts Program, we encourage registered artists from all communities to take the opportunity to have their story and art a part of these marketing efforts.

NWT Arts Displays

Regional and national arts displays are an opportunity to increase awareness and interest for the NWT arts industry. In partnership with the Edmonton International Airport, ITI has two display cases, located at gates 7 and 49. Display units are also located in regional centres across the territory. These displays showcase traditional NWT artwork and increase interest in the arts and fine crafts that are made by NWT artists.

Program Support

Regional Office Delivery

ITI programs and services are delivered through offices in Yellowknife (North Slave), Fort Smith (South Slave), Norman Wells (Sahtu), Fort Simpson (Dehcho) or Inuvik (Inuvik).

The Regional Arts Working Group (RAWG) is comprised of five representatives, one member from each ITI regional office. This group meets twice a year to discuss the state of the arts across the NWT and share regional perspectives of program delivery and initiatives. Members also gain knowledge for delivering regional programs and providing support in their own communities.

Regional offices receive specific funding annually to implement action items in the NWT Arts Strategy. This helps regional offices to:

- Take a more active role in the delivery of programming in their community.
- Have a direct impact on local arts promotion, support and coordination for overall programming.
- Deliver consistent programming throughout the NWT.
- Conduct e-commerce workshops in communities.
- Develop partnerships with Non-Government Organizations, NWT societies, band office and various arts enthusiasts.
- Participate in direct marketing and promotional activities.
- Encourage individual artists to sign up for the NWT Arts Program.
- Provide artists with access to raw materials and supplies to produce NWT arts and crafts.
- Provide funding to artists to attend events that promote NWT arts.

Subsidiary Support

ITI provides core funding to the Business Development Investment Corporation (BDIC), which supports three arts subsidiary companies. These subsidiary companies produce traditional arts and fine crafts for commercial sale through Arctic Canada Trading Company and other retail outlets.

- Dene Fur Clouds, Fort Providence.
- Acho Dene Crafts, Fort Liard.

Dene Fur Clouds

Welcome

In the heart of the Dene Ochi live the Dene Dene (Denepeople) who live by the land. The Dene Ochi is located in the Northwest Territories. The Dene people are leaders of the land and on the Dene Ochi there is an abundance of animals and resources on the land. This is what makes the Province unique compared to other Aboriginal areas across Canada.

Long ago, the Dene Ochi (Dene) lived nomadically. They moved seasonally and had camps to follow game. They used basically every part of the animal such as the hair including skins. They ate by the Dene Law to conserve and save only what is needed from the land. These uses of the land and the land takes care of you. Since the use of fur trading, fur was traditionally used to share the Dene.

With the history of these people, the Dene people of Fort Providence use this as an inspiration to create clothing from fur to keep it in their culture and as part of their tradition. The clothing is made from fur using respect of the care and the heritage of the people, the leather that is used is a type called Dene (beach only). A modern version of Dene sewing is used to make the garments which have been on international runways of the world, using sewing machines. The Dene are looking to the past for help in creating a future for our community.

A quote from an elder: "Dene people used to 'give up wearing rabbit skin' another quote from another elder said: "We must keep our own identity", many thanks.

The NWT Arts website provides a directory of local suppliers of raw materials.

ITI guarantees the purchase of traditionally tanned moose hides from NWT producers, and makes them available to artists at the purchase cost. To maintain the market reputation of this unique product, knowledgeable contractors with experience in valuation of these hides are contracted to purchase quality pieces on behalf of the government.

The NWT Film Commission

The NWT Film Commission provides support and assistance to grow northern film and media arts productions using sound business principles in areas of funding, marketing, promotion and infrastructure development. It does this by:

- Promoting the NWT to national and international film markets as a northern production destination.
- Serving as a liaison between industry and local government in support of the NWT Film and Media Arts Industry.
- Providing support and advice on all levels of funding and options available to industry.
- Assisting in the development of local creative talent necessary to sustain industry growth.

Through industry partnerships, strategic advertising campaigns, and its website www.nwtfilm.com, the NWT Film Commission is working to raise its profile in the NWT, promote the NWT as a desirable filming destination and provide important information to assist and connect film makers in the NWT, Canada and around the world.

Another important tool with which the NWT Film Commission is supporting and promoting local film industry professionals is the NWT Film Suppliers Guide listing businesses, organizations and individuals who can provide specific areas of expertise, products and services to assist production companies filming on location in the NWT.

Dedicated funding is available to the Film and Media Arts Industry, under the SEED Policy to assist with the completion of a first film; to assist applicants to market or promote their skills, services or productions and to increase sales of new or existing NWT film and media arts products and services; and to assist qualified film and media arts businesses in supporting commercial media productions, including co-productions in the NWT.

The NWT Film Commission's mandate is to:

"Maximize economic opportunities for the NWT Film and Media Arts Industry, and promote the NWT as an ultimate production location."
